Gunter Wilhelm is a line of high-quality yet affordable cutlery and cookware and is used by the White House Chef Tour (White House, VP residence, Camp David, Air Force One) and some top celebrity chefs such as Maneet Chauhan from Chopped. The company's 12 Piece Chef Knife Block Set is made of high-carbon German stainless steel and is a great gift idea for men or women that love to cook. The 12 Piece Set includes eight knives, a carving fork, two steels for maintenance (one steel is a diamond steel for sharpening), and a wooden block. My cook tester was impressed with the weight of the knives and the precision of the cut they provided. He also liked how diverse the eight knives were. The set includes a 10" chef knife, 10" pointed carving knife, 10" boning / fillet knife, 9.5" offset bread knife, 8" butchers cleaver, 7" Asian cleaver with dimples, 7" Santoku with dimples and 3.5" paring knife. Available with a black or brown handle and sold online at <http://gunterwilhelm.com/>. An impressive gift set.
